Edition 123

The Mayor's Book Club is pleased to present our Book-of-the-Month for April:

I'm A Gnome By: Jessica Peill-Meininghaus

I'm a Gnome! by Jessica Peill-Meininghaus is a story that highlights each of the creatures and their differences, but also how they all live together in the forest.

Tip #1 − I'm a Gnome! is a story that both shows and tells about each magical group. As you read together, you can match the descriptions you read with the images. It is a great way to practice reading comprehension.

Tip #2 – With each magical being, the gnome spells out their names. You and your child can practice spelling these words to introduce them or as a review. You can practice spelling each word in both the singular and plural spellings (i.e. elf and elves).

Tip #3 – The illustrations throughout the story depict each of the described characters and their activities. Your family can also think of other books, movies, shows, decorations, or spaces that feature magical creatures. It is a great way to review the images and associate or relate it to another experience your family may have had.

STEP 1: Find your rocks, stones or pebbles

Finding the rocks, stones or pebbles that you want to use for this painted rock craft can be as much fun as the painting! Think about the shapes and sizes that you want your fairy houses to be when picking your rocks.

STEP 2: Clean the rocks

Give the rocks that you have collected a wash with a little soapy water so that you have a smooth and clean surface to paint on.

STEP 3: Add color to the rocks using acrylic paints

Begin by painting the bottom half of the rocks using one of your acrylic paint pens or paints. Once you have added color to the bottom half of all the rocks it's time to paint the top to create the roof of your rock fairy houses. After you have painted the bottom and top of the rock it is now
